Wealth Builders Power Shares Low Option Spreads

Spot Stocks Ready for a Price Move. Know Your Entries and Exits.

A key to successful trading is to find shares which setup for a strong directional price move.

We solve this challenge for you by providing constant alerts on favorable NeverLossTrading chart setups, indicating:

A) Clearly Defined Entries

Trade entries happen when the candle, following the directional-indication candle, confirms the move by surpassing a pre-formulated price threshold.

B) Clearly Defined Exits

Expected minimum price moves are expressed in relation to the approximated price-move per time unit, which we call SPU (Speed Unit).

C) Stop-/Adjustment Levels

With the help of the NLT-Indicators, you know for every trade the price level where the directional assumption will no more hold true and you learn how to either use an NLT-trade-adjustment method or leave the trade at an acceptable risk.

D) Learn to Apply Multiple Trading Strategies

Option trades are often considered risky. In contrary, when applied right, option trades have defined advantages over trading the shares by being able to limit the risk of a trade.

All above mentioned and many more trading strategies are taught in the NeverLossTrading Mentorship-Programs.

Surely, you will also experience how to combine share- and option-trades. One example is our "Buy High, Sell Low – Make Money So – Strategy", where we teach you to produce constant monthly income from shares, while we are protecting your initial equity position, with the ability to constantly adjust your trade by a protective shield in case of a price drop.

In addition to your live teaching sessions, you will receive a written documentation for all taught strategies, explaining how to administer and follow through with various trade strategies.

Our NeverLossTrading® documentations include:

- Concept Specific Tutorials: How to make use of indicators and trade setups.
- NLT Option Tutorial: The next dimension of option trading.
- NLT Futures Tutorial: All about trading Futures.
- NLT Special Trade Setups: Choose favorable trading methods, allowing you to bring the odds in your favor, regardless of the direction the markets take.
- A Trading Plan: Documenting for you when, how and what best to trade.
